

TECH-TRENDS LTD PRIVACY STATEMENT FOR WEB SITE

Privacy

Tech-Trends Ltd respects your right to privacy and we understand that, as a visitor to this site, you prefer to control your own personal information. We may ask you, on occasion, to register or to provide personal information and preferences when you visit certain areas of the site or request information to be sent to you. We will not pass on the information you supply to us to any third party, without your express permission. We will only use the personal information you share with us to provide you with information you have requested from us. Note that we do not keep a marketing database, but rely instead on you opting in to a RSS feed or similar to follow Tech-Trends Ltd updates.

If you choose not to register or provide personal information, you can still visit the website, however you may not be able to access areas that require personal identification.

Google Analytics

This website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ('Google'). Google Analytics uses cookies, which are text files placed on your computer, to help the website analyse how users use the site. The information generated by the cookie about your use of the website (including your IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating your use of the website, compiling reports on website activity for website operators and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage. Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law, or where such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. Google will not associate your IP address with any other data held by Google. You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser. However, please note that if you do this you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. By using this website, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above.